

David Tremlett

Selected ideas on paper

December 13, 2025

After many years a new show of David Tremlett in the gallery presents some works on paper of different periods starting from the 80s until now. In the main room, a Wall Drawing created specifically for the Gallery.

Tremlett invites visitors into a direct relationship with the space, transforming the architectural environment into a dynamic and immersive artwork.

In Selected Ideas on Paper, the artist offers an overview of the various stages of his career, characterized by his ability to interpret and harmonize his works with the environments in which he operates, suggesting new perspectives and atmospheres.

The works fit into a bigger context, where line, color, and geometric forms interact, revealing a new concept of pictorial practice that goes beyond paper to embrace the architectural space.
